Call for Proposals Changemaker Anti-Racist Pedagogy Fellows Program

In partnership with the Division of Graduate Education and Postdoctoral Affairs, the Teaching + Learning Commons Engaged Teaching Hub invites graduate students to apply for the 2022 Anti-Racist Pedagogy Learning Community Fellowship Program.

The purpose of the Fellowship is to support graduate students who have an interest in learning about and employing anti-racist practices into their teaching. Twenty fellows will be selected and will receive a $1,000 stipend over Winter and Spring quarters ($500 distributed each quarter) for use for activities such as professional development, course development, research, and implementation costs that could include curriculum materials, course or project-related travel.

The program is a two-quarter commitment with a project implementation deadline of Winter 2024, and is open to all full-time UC San Diego graduate students who will be enrolled through the 2022-2024 academic year. Applicants should demonstrate a strong interest in learning about the historical roots of educational inequity, examining their teaching practices through a racial equity lens, and enacting anti-racist practices in their class, department, or program through a project of their own design. Applications will be accepted through Sunday, November 20, 2022. Fellows will be selected and notified by Thursday, December 1, 2022. Please visit the website for complete program and application details.
